Seven-day Shopping Arrives at Marine Corps Air Station Yuma Commissary

MARINE CORPS AIR STATION YUMA, Arizona (May 31, 2022) –The Marine Corps Air Station Yuma Commissary is pleased to announce the store will be open seven days a week starting June 6, 2022.

The new Monday opening is part of a Defense Commissary Agency pilot program and will offer limited services, such as:

- Self and full-service checkout registers will be available
- Debit/credit card and cash payment only
- Fresh meat will be available, but no meat cutters will be onsite for special orders

The commissary is providing this pilot to determine how well seven-day shopping will be received by the Marine Corps Air Station Yuma community

“We are piloting an extra day of shopping to see if this helps improve the shopping experience for the Marine Corps Air Station Yuma community,” said Javier Ramirez, Marine Corps Air Station Yuma Commissary store director. “The commissary benefit is a significant boost to military quality of life, and we are exploring various ways like seven-day shopping to help our customers maximize it.”

DeCA’s new program is part of ongoing improvements and convenience the agency is piloting to
